

Year 11

Year 11 have started their study leave and now will only be in for exams and booster sessions.

There are several events arranged to celebrate their time at CBSC including a Year Book, Hoodies, a trip to Thorpe Park and another to 'Nando's'. However the most important for many of our students is the event taking place this Saturday! Year 11 are supporting the Sam Hargreaves Rainbow Foundation. Sam was an extremely popular member of our year group that sadly passed away last year. The students are encouraging as many students and parents as well as the staff at CBSC to attend this important fundraising event. It takes place at Sutton United F.C. Saturday June 11th from 2pm. Please come along if you are able to.

Roald Dahl Year 8

On the Friday before half term, a group of year 8 authors hosted a showcase of their brilliant stories and recent work on Roald Dahl. The students read extracts from their work and captivated guests with their entertaining, nail-biting and moving stories. Parents and staff were invited to create their own words at the Gobblefunk stall and share their dreams at the BFG's dream-catching stall. It was a very special afternoon. Thank you to everyone who came and a huge well done to the year 8 students involved.

In the spirit of Roald Dahl, who invented many words for the language he called Gobblefunk, below are some of our best inventions. Who knows, maybe one of these will become the 'selfie' of 2016 and enter the dictionary!

Ankywonkle – when old women have a go at teenagers (Louis Carney)

Spitzblurter – a person who spits when they talk (Callum Charlton)

Pongerbucklefrog – a plonker who happens to be a frog (Cayce Miskin)

Unchling (Noun) – tiny gremlin-like creature with wild eyes and busy hair. It lives in the muddy puddles of cool caves. (Ms Ansa)

Pongpuffan – a very naughty year 8 (Ms Tyson)

Squibgrotting – digging really deep to get the snot out of your nose (Mr Harrison)

Orkyblurter – when you're not quite sure what to say so talk gibberish (Rachel)

Identifying verbs

Verbs tell us what people (or things) are doing or being. They can change according to the time being spoken about - past, present or future: For example:

Sam finished his homework in the library.

In this sentence 'finished' is the verb (it says what Sam did with his homework in the past).

'Sam' is the subject of the sentence because the verb tells us what he did.

All sentences need a verb. Here are some examples:

Jenny reads the Metro on the train every morning.

That bicycle belongs to me.

Two verbs are sometimes put together, especially with verbs like can, must, should.

I can see the sea from my house.

You really must see the new Bond film.

We can also use more than one word to form a tense:

We have been driving for hours.

There can also be more than one verb in a sentence:

1. When a verb is followed by an infinitive (a verb with no tense, usually after 'to'):

The children didn't want to go home.

2. When a sentence has two subjects:

We'll talk about the party when Simon comes home. (The two subjects are 'We' and 'Simon'.)

Here are this fortnight's spellings for years 7 and 8:

Rhyme

Tutors, please encourage your tutees to work through their activity booklet whenever possible. You could even do mock tests or play some word games.

Teachers, please try to get any of these words into your lessons in any way possible!

Parents, please help your son learn his spellings and encourage him to revise for the test in his next Literacy lesson!

Thanks a lot, everyone!
